

ANKYLOSAURUS

Late Cretaceous 99.6-65.5 Million Years Ago

Ankylosaurus entire top side was heavily protected from carnivores with thick, oval plates embedded in its leathery skin. It had two rows of spikes along its body, large horns that projected from the back of the head, and a club-like tail. It even had bony plates as protection for its eyes.

